

Proclamation

By the Governor of Alabama

WHEREAS, Alabama's first responders include police officers, firefighters, emergency medical technicians, paramedics, 911 dispatchers and all members of the public safety community that serve on the frontlines each day, protecting the lives and property of their fellow citizens; and

WHEREAS, these brave men and women exemplify the values that define the people of Alabama: Courage, service and an unwavering commitment to helping neighbors in times of need; and

WHEREAS, from the mountains of North Alabama to the Gulf of America, first responders stand ready around the clock to answer the call for help, often putting their own safety at risk to save others; and

WHEREAS, Alabama's first responders have demonstrated exceptional strength and compassion in times of disaster, from hurricanes and tornadoes to floods and other emergencies, providing critical aid and reassurance to communities in distress; and

WHEREAS, the families of first responders also share in this noble calling, offering steadfast support and enduring countless sacrifices as their loved ones serve on the frontlines; and

WHEREAS, the dedication and selflessness of Alabama's first responders inspire gratitude and respect from all Alabamians and serve as a lasting reminder of the courage that strengthens our state and its people; and

WHEREAS, most recently, our first responders aided their fellow Alabamians before, during and after Hurricane Isaias. We commend them:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Kay Ivey, Governor of Alabama, do hereby proclaim October 28, 2026, as

First Responders Day in the state of Alabama.

Given Under My Hand and the Great Seal of the Office of the Governor at the State Capitol in the City of Montgomery on the 28th day of October 2026.
